We are honored that you have chosen to worship with us today at First Baptist Atlantic Beach. We pray that you experience the presence of the Lord as we worship together.

A Note from Pastor Greg

Father's Day is not the easiest day for many people. There are a wide range of emotions when some people think about their dad and how he affected their lives. My prayer today is that you understand that your biological dad is not, was not perfect, he made mistakes. It may be hard for you to comprehend that God is a loving Father who desires you to be His child, because that was in no way what you experienced growing up. I am not condoning what your dad might have done to you, or if your dad was never there for you. What I am hoping to do is turn you to the heavenly Father who loves you with a love that is unconditional and even hard to fathom. Trust me, it grieves our heavenly Father when dads hurt their family and do hateful (hurtful) things to their children. God's design for the family has always been for a man and woman to come together in holy matrimony, stay committed to each other, and have children whom they love and raise under biblical principles. God places a great responsibility on dads to be the spiritual and physical head of the family and to lead his family with Christ-like virtues.

For others, today is a great and joyous day as you celebrate your dad and the good example he provided for you and your family. If that is the case, then you should thank God for him and if you can, go see him or call him and let him know how grateful you are that you're his child.

Do not turn away from God because of the errors of your dad, God desires for you to run to Him today, jump in His lap, and let Him love on you and ease any pain you may be feeling. He truly is a Good, Good Father.
